Why this version works

Cold rice browns instead of steaming, while separate griddle zones keep the zucchini crisp-tender and the chicken juicy. The egg and small vegetables are folded into the rice; the larger zucchini mixture stays separate so everyone can build a plate the way they like.

Ingredients

Chicken - 1 1/2 lb boneless skinless chicken breasts or thighs, cut into 1/2-inch pieces - 3 Tbsp teriyaki sauce or Japanese barbecue sauce - 1 Tbsp neutral high-heat oil - 1/2 tsp kosher salt and 1/4 tsp black pepper	Zucchini vegetables - 2 medium zucchini, halved lengthwise and sliced 1/2-inch thick - 1 red bell pepper, 1-inch pieces - 1 medium yellow onion, 1-inch pieces - 8 oz mushrooms, halved or thickly sliced (optional) - 1 Tbsp neutral oil - 1 Tbsp garlic butter - Salt and pepper to taste
Vegetable-egg fried rice - 2 cups uncooked long-grain or jasmine rice, cooked and chilled (about 6 cups) - 1 1/2 cups frozen peas and carrots - 4 large eggs, beaten - 3 green onions, sliced; keep white and green parts separate - 3 Tbsp garlic butter, divided	Finishing sauce and garnish - 4 Tbsp low-sodium soy sauce - 1 Tbsp oyster sauce (optional, for extra savory flavor) - 1 Tbsp toasted sesame oil - Sliced green onion tops and sesame seeds, optional

Garlic butter

Mix 6 Tbsp softened unsalted butter with 2 minced garlic cloves and 1 tsp soy sauce. The recipe uses 4 Tbsp; keep the extra ready in case the rice or vegetables need it.

Prep ahead - do not skip

- 1 Cook and chill the rice. Cook according to the package directions. Spread it in a thin layer on a lightly oiled sheet pan, cool promptly, cover, and refrigerate at least 3 hours or overnight. Cold, dry rice gives separate grains instead of a soft pile.
- 2 Prepare every ingredient before heating the griddle. Once cooking starts, the meal moves quickly. Portion the sauces and butter; beat the eggs; cut the chicken and vegetables.
- 3 Season the chicken. Toss with teriyaki sauce, salt, and pepper. Refrigerate 30 minutes if time allows; even 10 minutes helps.

Blackstone cook - three zones

- 1 Preheat and zone the griddle. Heat the Blackstone to 375-400 F. Set one side medium-high for chicken, the center medium for vegetables, and one side medium-low for rice and eggs. Oil the chicken and vegetable zones.
- 2 Cook the chicken. Spread the pieces in one layer and leave them untouched 2-3 minutes to brown. Flip and cook another 2-3 minutes. Move to a cooler edge when nearly done; finish until the thickest pieces reach 165 F.
- 3 Cook the separate vegetables. Add onion and mushrooms first; cook 2 minutes. Add bell pepper and zucchini, season lightly, and toss 3-5 minutes until browned but still crisp-tender. Add 1 Tbsp garlic butter during the final minute. Move to the warm zone; do not mix into the rice.
- 4 Start the rice vegetables. On the medium zone, melt 1 Tbsp garlic butter. Cook peas, carrots, and the white parts of the green onions for about 2 minutes, then move them beside the rice zone.
- 5 Fry the rice. Melt 1 Tbsp garlic butter, spread the cold rice in a thin layer, and leave it alone for 60-90 seconds. Flip sections and fry 3-4 minutes, breaking up clumps without chopping the grains.
- 6 Add the eggs. Make a well in the rice and reduce that spot to about 300 F. Melt the final 1 Tbsp garlic butter, pour in the eggs, let them set about 40 seconds, then scramble gently. Fold the eggs and peas-and-carrots into the rice.
- 7 Season and finish. Stir the soy sauce and optional oyster sauce together and drizzle over the rice, tossing evenly. Turn off the burners, add the sesame oil, and toss once more. Taste before adding more soy sauce.
- 8 Serve in three parts. Plate fried rice, chicken, and the zucchini vegetables side by side. Garnish with green onion tops and sesame seeds.

TIPS, ALTERNATES & TROUBLESHOOTING

- Best rice: Jasmine or another long-grain rice. Fresh, warm rice contains too much surface moisture; if you must use it, spread it thin and chill it in the freezer for 20-30 minutes.
- Avoid soggy zucchini: Keep slices thick, use a hot clean zone, do not salt until they hit the griddle, and stop while the centers still feel firm.
- Chicken choice: Thighs are more forgiving; breasts are leaner and work well if cut evenly and moved off the hottest zone as soon as they reach 165 F.
- Smaller griddle: Cook chicken first and hold it covered, then cook vegetables, then rice. Crowding lowers the surface temperature and causes steaming.
- Easy substitutions: Use frozen stir-fry vegetables, broccoli, snap peas, or yellow squash. Shrimp, steak, or pork can replace chicken; adjust cook time and verify safe doneness.
- Indoor option: Use the same order in a large skillet or wok, working in batches so the pan stays hot.
